

Consider these facts . . .

- › Levees may reduce, but do not eliminate, the risk of flooding and are subject to catastrophic failure.
- › Even if a levee meets the FEMA standard of protection, there is a greater than 25% chance of a larger flood occurring within any 30-year period (the length of a typical home mortgage).
- › Flood damage is not covered by most standard home, renter, and business owners' insurance policies.
- › The State recommends that you obtain flood insurance for your property.
Contact your insurance agent or call the National Flood Insurance Program at 1-877-336-2627.

Remember these simple tips to:

Prepare

Prepare an emergency kit that includes: flashlights, radio, batteries, candles, matches, blankets, water, food, first-aid kit, and a list and supply of all medications.

Keep important documents and valuable possessions on an upper level of the structure, or as high as possible.

Make a list of items to take with you and have a plan for your pets.

Know how to safely shut off your utilities.

Listen to authorities for emergency instructions.

Establish a family meeting place.

Prevent

Keep storm drains, gutters, and ditches clear.

Check with your local flood control agency to see if a permit is required if you plan to build on, fill, alter, or re-grade your property.

Never excavate, plant, modify, or build anything on any levee or flood control easement without permits from the appropriate local, state, and federal agencies.

Protect

Never drive through flooded streets or roads. More people are trapped and die in their vehicles than anywhere else during floods.

Never try to escape rising floodwater by going into the attic unless you have roof access, or if there are no other safe options.

Consider buying flood insurance. It is a wise investment.
